

DIS MANIBUS

ROBERT WILLIAMS: DIS MANIBUS A TAXONOMY OF GHOSTS AND GHOSTLY PHENOMENA.

Saturday 24th of January from 10 pm til Midnight.

Refreshments provided.

The event is free but you may like to make a donation to a charity chosen by our speaker.

This talk has been given in the Morbid Anatomy Museum

(<http://morbidanatomymuseum.org>)

in New York and The Horse Hospital London

(<http://www.thehorsehospital.com>)

and The Cornerhouse, Manchester

(<http://www.cornerhouse.org/bookstore/product/dis-manibus>)

We are delighted to be able to offer it at Atticus.

Places are limited to 20 and no tickets will be issued on the night.

So please book well in advance.

The name Dis Manibus is drawn from the Latin, abbreviated to "DM" on Roman tombstones, which dedicate the occupants to 'The Spirits of the Underworld'.